

TOMIKA BULLET

EXPERIENCE

Tomika is the Tax Controversy Principal at Windham Brannon. She has more than 20 years of experience in the tax and audit industry. She spent almost 15 years at the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) in the Small Business/Self Employed (SB/SE) division where she specialized in the management of partnership, corporate and high-net-worth individual examinations.

Tomika leverages her in-depth IRS knowledge and experience to assist clients in resolving a wide range of tax issues, including responding to IRS notices, securing penalty abatements and managing both federal and state examinations. She has also worked extensively with businesses on Employee Retention Credit (ERC) claims and refunds, helping them navigate the process and maximize their benefits.

Prior to joining the IRS, Tomika worked with a large telecommunications holding company, where she conducted Sarbanes-Oxley testing and other business reviews for internal operations. She began her career with a Big Four Firm preparing audited financial statements.
